

Nobody Wants Them MUD TRUCKS

The excavation of mud from the Mystic River, in preparation for the extension of Route 93 is presenting problems to the contractors, and to town and city officials of Middlesex County.

The mud is the problem. It has an odor which is described by William Childs, Chairman of the Wilmington Conservation Commission as 'Odiferous'.

The contractors want to get rid of the mud, but no municipality seems to be willing to allow it to be dumped within its border.

They find a place, hurry in a few hundred truck loads, and then somebody shows up from the local Police Department, or the local Board of Health.

In every instance the story is the same. The operators very politely inform the police, or health officials, that they are just about to start to another place, and that they are all through at 'this' place.

And, - they do just what they say.

It started last week, in Woburn, PAGE EIGHT

Fatal Fire of 'Undetermined Cause'

The early Sunday morning fire at 13 Manning Street, which took the life of Mrs Catherine G Shea, 63, has been labeled 'of undetermined origin' by state Fire Marshals and Fire Chief Arthur Boudreau. The building, valued at over $20,000, was a total loss.

The alarm was blown at 3:40 am Sunday, after a passing motorist, unknown, called to Officers Robert Shelley and Fred Ward that there was 'a fire up on Shawshen Avenue'. When the fire department arrived the home was already burning fiercely.

Kevin Field, Call Fireman, was injured when on overhang over the front porch collapsed, striking him on the head. He was taken to St. Johns Hospital, in Lowell, and released next afternoon.

Mrs Shea had been a resident of the home for about three years. She was the mother of Mrs Ruth Jackson of Harris Street. Funeral services were held in Somerville Tuesday.

The fire started, according to Chief Boudreau, in the sitting room of the home.

A Wilmington Marine Receives the Bronze Star

2nd Lieutenant Thomas F. O'Toole Jr., USMC, son of Mr and Mrs Thomas F. O'Toole of 11 Hathaway Road was decorated with the Bronze Star, three weeks ago, in Vietnam.

Lt. O'Toole had just returned to his base camp, after 8 days in the field, when the order was passed to fall in. The Commanding General then pinned the Bronze Star on his tunic (picture above) and the citation was read:

'In the name of the President of the United States, the Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, takes pleasure in presenting the Bronze Star Medal to Second Lieutenant Thomas Francis O'Toole, Jr. United States Marine Corps, for service as set forth in the following citation:

For heroic achievement in connection with operations against the enemy in the Republic of Vietnam while serving as a Platoon Leader with Company E, Second Battalion, Ninth Marines, Third Marine Division on 12 November 1966. During a search and destroy mission in the Thon Cu area of Quang Tri Province, Second Lieutenant O'Toole's platoon came under intense enemy automatic weapons fire as it prepared to sweep through a village. Seeing his Platoon Sergeant wounded and lying in a position exposed to continuing enemy fire, he completely disregarded his own safety to dash across an open field under withering hostile fire to aid the wounded Marine. As he reached the disabled man, he, too, was wounded.

Despite the fact that he was in intense pain and bleeding profusely from his right shoulder, Second Lieutenant O'Toole courageously continued to lead his platoon, organizing it for a second North Vietnamese attack. When loss of blood weakened him to the extent that he could no longer move about, he radioed instructions to his men and informed his command post of the situation.

His heroic and selfless actions inspired all who observed him and were instrumental in preserving his platoon's integrity. Second Lieutenant O'Toole's presence of mind under fire, outstanding leadership and loyal devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and of the United States Naval Service. Second Lieutenant O'Toole is authorized to wear the Combat 'V' For The President

A. R. Kler
Major General, United States Marine Corps, Acting.

Lt. O'Toole, who is a nine year veteran of the Marine Corps, received his commission a year ago February, after having served in every rank on his way to his Lieutenantancy.

After having been wounded on Nov. 12th he was sent to the U.S.S. Repose, Hospital Ship, where he was kept for three months, recovering from his wounds.

He has now become the Intelligence and Assistant Operations Officer of his Battalion, a position generally held by officers higher in rank than a Second Lieutenant.

His current address is: 2nd Lt. Thomas F. O'Toole Jr., USMC, H&S Co., 2nd Bn, 9th Marines, 3rd Marine Division, FPO San Francisco, Calif. 96602.

Rice Brothers will Rebuild

They are Down, but Not Out. The Rice Brothers, of North Wilmington, who lost their place of business in a fire two weeks ago, have announced that they expect to start rebuilding in the near future, and expect further to be in full operation within eight weeks. They will be right back in business at the old stand, too - 363 Middlesex Avenue.

Meanwhile the firm - franchised dealers of Quaker Maid Kitchens, Inc. are operating from the former Wilmington Ford building, on Main Street, below Wilmington Center, where, at the present time, they are selling smoke damaged kitchen cabinets and other appliances, which have been restored to a like new condition.

The new building, which will have enlarged facilities, including office, shop and show rooms, is planned to open on May 15th.

Selectmen's Meeting

Residents of Carter Lane, with Robert Jordan as their spokesman appeared again at the Selectmen's meeting, Monday night, to discuss the West Intermediate School pedway.

The situation was reviewed completely, since Mr. Boylen, the new Selectman, was not acquainted with the situation. Paul Niles assisted Mr. Boylen with a 'rundown', telling of the chain that had been voted twice to be put across the pedway,
and that Chief Lynch and Street Supt. Jimmy White had appeared and stated that they did not desire the chain.

Joseph Francis of Carter Lane
said that he understood that Jim Miceli had looked at the situation.
Miceli affirmed this, saying that he had been there several times and didn't see anything wrong.

Jordan said he was talking about non-school hours, and Miceli said he was talking about the lack of enforcement, it seemed, and that he would handle it.

Jordan told the Selectmen that this was the fourth time he had appeared before them, and that he hoped something would be done before some child was hit by a car. He reminded the Selectmen that the Safety Committee had recommended a chain, and that he didn't see much sense in having such a committee, if nothing was done about their recommendations.

The matter was left in the hands
of Mr Miceli.

Niles suggested that the Selectmen review the Town Manager application, and get rid of those who the Selectmen believed to be not qualified. He also suggested a meeting with the Library Trustees
to work out 'a solid proposition'.
Melzar reported to the Selectmen that the new members were now actively engaged in a proposal for the Town Meeting.

Melzar also suggested that the proposal be made shortly to have a book of assessments, comparable to that of 1955, and that the two years evaluations of 1965 and 1966 be included, so that the people could know what the new assessing program had done. Miceli suggested that this be put on the agenda for the next meeting.

Niles asked Melzar as to progress on the Woburn Street bridge and Miceli said that he had been talking with Senator Ron MacKenzie, who had made an appointment with DPW engineers. They guaranteed him action shortly.

George Boylen suggested that the various board members should be classified, and that it be put on the agenda for next week, but Miceli suggested instead that it be put on the agenda two weeks from Monday, at 9:30 pm so the Town Counsel could be present.

TM Melzar reported that the Wiring Inspector had viewed the North School, and was meeting with Supt. of Schools Harold Shea and the Permanent Building Committee to discuss the situation.

Selectman Black asked for an opinion of the Town Counsel, as to whether a majority vote or a two thirds vote was needed for the Clark Street layout, in the Town Meeting.

Niles asked if the situation on Oak Court and Burt Road had been brought to the attention of the Supt.
of Streets. Melzar reported that there had to be a culvert there,
and there was no money for the culvert. Jimmy White, he said, had a lot of those streets to take care of, after they had 'dried up'.

A letter from the League of Women Voters was read, saying that with a 16 thousand population Wilmington should have facilities for recreation which should include nine tennis courts, five or six baseball diamonds, five or six softball diamonds, accommodations 500 for swimming with adequate parking facilities, and that they would support all groups in recreation, all ages, in all seasons.

The Conservation Commission
notified the Selectmen of a hearing in the Gardner Auditorium, in Boston, to classify the rivers of the area, according to the new classification, for swimming, boat ing, and fishing, and sponsored by the League of Women Voters, the Planning Board and the Conservation Commission.

Charles Black suggested that a letter of thanks be sent to the Chairman of the Board of Appeals,
Louis E. Gage.

The Student Officers, who were among those present, then took over the meeting. David Boeri, of Lloyd Road, the Student Town Manager was absent because of illness, and could not be present.

The first student enquiry was as to the Town Manager form of government, - its suitability to the town, or should the office be eliminated and the town clerk assume the duties.

Selectman Niles pointed out that the question had been on the ballot
three times, and that it could be placed on the ballot every three years. He definitely thought the town needed a Town Manager, because it has a $4 million budget and 130 employees. He thought the focus should be on a real professional, fulltime man.

Mr Melzar told the students that the Selectmen still had a lot of jurisdiction, and this was for the Guidance of the Board.

Mike O'Rourke then questioned
the practicability of the Town Meeting, which, because of poor attendance, could be blocked by a minority. The students asked about the Finance Committee, and were told of the poorly attended hearings
by that committee.

The Student Selectmen were much concerned because of the apathy of the voters in the Town, and questioned whether or not there should be a change from the Open Town Meeting to Representative Government.

Ronald Wolff pointed out that if Wilmington did that it would lose the Pure Democracy type of government, and that once done, the town would never go back. However, he said, there was still danger from blocks of voters.

Niles pointed out that this was possible even with Representative Government, and cited Winchester
as an example of a town where the

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208 Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or 658-4865 after five. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

Al Mills of Adams Street has finished his basic training, for the Army, at Fort Bragg, and I understand that he has now passed his test for OCS. When's the happy day Al? - Congratulations.

The Wilmington Rainbow Girls were at an Assembly for Milford NH, Monday night, and they have asked me to extend their thanks to all of you for co-operating, in the making of the candy sale a success. The Assembly is to be guests of honor at the Wilmington Methodist Church Service on April 2nd.

Ruth Wood writes from Sanford Maine that Ariel is recovering beautifully. He receives about 20 cards a day, and most of them from Wilmington, and he enjoys them very much. The Doc says he will be on his feet in two or three weeks. It is, I understand, the first time that Ariel has been sick - and that's something! We're all rooting for him.

Mary Ethler reports that her son Paul and Bob Given had a 1 am meeting, in Vietnam, last week. They just sat and gabbed and gabbed. Imagine that - at 1 am!

That Knights of Columbus Installation, a week ago, must have been something. This gal goofed, and got tied up with a prospective client - it was entirely unintentional, and won't happen again. Please invite us again!

And the Sons of Italy has, I believe, 83 members, and only a week old. Some jumping for Wilmington's newest lodge. Bet there will be over one hundred members by April.

I don't know where Frannie Gray gets her energy. Now she's the chairman for the Sons of Italy cake sale Saturday, at DeMoulas. It starts at 9 am and will continue until they run out of cakery - so take it on your Saturday morning tour, folks.

Charlie Dolan - he's the gendarme with the camera - and his Mrs are back brown and beaming from Florida, where they went to celebrate twenty five years of wedded bliss. Took a trip over to Nassau, too.

If you're out in the town Saturday morning you should't forget those Cadette Girl Scouts, and their paper drive. They'll be in the Methodist Church parking lot from 9 to 11:30, or call Jeannie Willis and she'll arrange a pickup.

Al Lynch is in the Veterans Hospital, with a problem with his back. He'd love to hear from his friends.

We had a call this week saying that perhaps School Buses could be used to take people to and from Town Meetings - thereby giving the voter no excuse for not attending. There might be something to that - thanks!

HOWARD FRATAS ENLISTS

Howard L. Fratas, son of Mr and Mrs Howard Fratas of 390 Salem Street, recently enlisted in the Navy for a period of four years.

With all this talk about the thruway, or pedway, and chain, at the new West Intermediate School, I took a trip over to see for myself Tuesday, at the time that school was letting out.

I wonder what the Department of Public Safety would think of the chaos, when those kids came piling out of school. It was quite different from the Glen Road School, where I was last Friday. There the after school scene is quite orderly.

But at the West Intermediate - Boutwell! As I have said before, the first graders were tripping down Carter Lane in the middle of the street, delightfully and blissfully unaware of a sudden death lurking at every step!

They tell me that Lucille, from Federal Street is turning out to be quite a seamstress, and she is sporting a new spring outfit, and further that she does equally well with stuffed pandas! ... but I didn't get one.

One of the students at the West School didn't do too well in his welding lesson, last week, causing his teacher to involuntarily exclaim 'Wow! That's lousy. Why don't you get your brother to do it!'

The word is that the teacher, Mr Mills, knows the brother socially, and has the edge on his pupil because of that.

Incidentally, he'll be taking his marriage vows, this spring, I hear.

Fred Cain had a guest, in at the State House, Tuesday, John Brown, a High School senior, who was Student Representative from Wilmington High School. Fred took good care of Brown, I am told.

Young Mr. Brown is quite a boy, from all accounts. He is the editor of the Class Year Book, was voted Fire Chief for Student Government Day, which comes on March 29th., and is to appear in the St. Thomas CYO play 'Inherit the Wind' Busy Fellow!

Letters

Dear Larz:

'General information - criteria, procedures, guidelines for approval of projects for public library construction grants...' is a part of the title of the Federal Aid pamphlet coming from the Boston Division of Library Extension to any public group concerned with a library building project and wanting Federal Aid for it. From reading this pamphlet I have come to the opinion that the Board of Library Commissioners is not going to permit the public to spend its library portion of federal and local tax money in poor fashion.

Since in Massachusetts no State money is available for public library buildings, the Federal funds must be matched by local funds. The ratio may be Federal 25% - local 75%. It may be less than 25% Federal; much depends upon the number of library projects in this state and the quality of our own application.

The Board of Library Commissioners make no bones about the fact that they are looking for communities who are seeking to improve their library service in a professional manner. They say on page 2 of the pamphlet, 'The policies, plans and regulations for apportioning this Federal aid have been developed on the basis of: 1. An awareness of national developments and professional opinions in the library field...' They are aware of national developments and professional opinion in the library field, and they want the applicants to be also!

Priorities are listed. Wilmington is currently in Priority II in that we are a central library building; we are participating in a regional system and are eligible for a direct state - aid grant. This state grant (over $3000) depends upon quality of service within a building - meeting certain minimum requirements.

Under criteria the applicant must have a long range program planned (ten-to-twenty year period); they must thus prove the present building inadequate. Wilmington will have no trouble there! The pamphlet's page 5 says, 'Construction will be planned on a strategically located and available site preferably already acquired at the time of application for Federal funds.' Well, some day the old church land may be acquired by this town, but 'strategically located' with an awareness of national developments and professional opinion it will never be! However, we are fortunate in that the Walker School site is town owned and has been approved as a potential library site twice by professional town planners - once in 1957 and again in 1966. Also on page 5, 'It is strongly recommended that an experienced librarian - building planner... be retained...' Page 6, 'Purchase of a building for renovation or remodeling for public library purposes will not be allowed.' In short, you cannot waste your federal or local funds on any old wooden church building!

Although this guideline pamphlet does seem designed to prevent laymen Library Boards from spending money in an unwise manner, it is making requirements which would be done anyway by any good Library Board which wishes to give the community the very best library building possible, with or without federal funds!

Sincerely,
Evelyn M. Norton

Dear Mr. Neilson:

I have just read your article about removing the beds from the fire house.

I for one, don't care whether the beds stay or go. But, sir, you give the overall impression that they sleep every night tucked away in their beds.

I wouldn't want the people to get the wrong impression of their firemen. As you know yourself, during the night on many occasions of their fourteen-hour night, they are out at all hours, on the ambulance, extinguishing house fires, brush fires, and answering false alarms.

I have read several articles complimenting our fire and police departments in your paper. Evidently you don't read what you print. It seems some of our towns people do appreciate our Fire and Police Departments for the prompt service given them.

Sincerely yours
Gert Lyons

That went over like a brick

Arthur Allgrove's Prize Winning Exhibit

AT THE NEW ENGLAND FLOWER SHOW: Arthur Eames Allgrove's Prize Winning Exhibit. Mr. Allgrove, who lives on Middlesex Avenue, was one of three residents of Wilmington to win an award at the show, the others being Michael Kartuz of Chestnut Street, and David Miner, of 14 Marjorie Road.

Allgrove has been exhibiting at the Flower Show for a number of years. He was assisted this year by David Newhouse of Wilmington, Tom Horne, of Milo, Maine; and Mel Bean of Melvan Village, N.H. The young lady is named Susan Near, and she is supposed to be mulling over the theme of 'Plan, Plant and Preserve'.

aloud on why it had not been submitted to the Town Meeting this year, since it had so nearly been voted a year ago.

Ronald Wolff told of hearing a speaker tell, at Rotary about the building, in swamps, and how the impervious layers of soil being disturbed, with the result that the water became contaminated from septic tanks.

Niles then explained the Hatch

Act, designed to stop some of these practises, and to prevent the building up of land in swamps.

The question was brought up of a new town hall. Miceli said he personally didn't feel that the town was in a financial position to tackle this. The Library, he said, had $15,000 in the bank to purchase the St. Thomas site, and the Federal Government would grant up to 25% to a maximum of $400,000 for this purpose.

Been getting the eye lately? Or does it seem almost as if you've actually got something in your eye, besides that contact lense?

It could be that you're not taking care of those contacts in the right way. Besides the most obvious point, cleaning them carefully and regularly, how are you putting them in their case? After being washed and rinsed, they should be dried with care before being stored. Using clean fresh gauze is recommended. If you don't dry them, you're leaving them wide open for bacterial contamination and yourself wide open for an eye infection. See what we mean? Contact! for a clean take-off...

when a large group of citizens descended on the City Hall, angry because of the 'Mud Trucks' in their section of the city. The Mayor was surprised, and perhaps miffed because he had to learn about the trucks in this way, but a few words to the operators brought about a complete halt of mud trucks - to that part of the city.

Later it was learned that the Mud Trucks were dumping on the West side of Woburn.

A few words to the operators - and the city officials were very politely told 'We are just finished'.

Then they moved to Billerica, (last week's Town Crier). When the Billerica Board of Health agent and Wilmington's Superintendent of the Water Department protested the operation was stopped quickly.

Thursday the Mud Trucks began to dump in East Wilmington, in the old gravel pit near Jenks Bridge, off Woburn Street.

There must have been over 100 truckloads of the odorous stuff dumped Thursday. Friday morning an alert citizen called William Childs, Conservation Chairman.

Childs called the Town Hall, and the Town Hall and Police Department swung into action.

'We are just leaving' Chief of Police Paul Lynch was told. And they were.

It is not known where the Mud Trucks were on Monday, unless it was in Burlington. For, in that town on Tuesday the Police and Selectmen suddenly realized that they were getting their share of Mystic River Mud.

Again it was the same story. 'We are just leaving' the Burlington police were told.

Yesterday it was reported that the Mud Trucks were hauling to someplace in Tewksbury.

How long?

JUST A PART OF THE MYSTIC RIVER MUD: In East Wilmington. This pile is lying near the entrance to the former 'Sunshine' Smith gravel pit, and is not entirely shown in the photograph. Another similar pile is about a quarter of a mile further, from Woburn Street.

FROM THE BOX SEAT
The Faculty Tournament pushes into the Quarter-finals Saturday night. The Wilmington teachers, eliminated in the opener by Keith will be back on the final evening for a consolation tilt. The Semi-finals are next Wednesday and the championship finale on Friday. The tournament's many games feature several outstanding hoopsters and are well worth the nominal price of admission, the proceeds from which go to the Teacher's scholarship fund.

UNRESERVED

What a joke these NBA Eastern Division playoffs' quarter-finals are. The Knicks and Royals have as much chance of winning as we have of getting a stadium. How long do you think the Celts and 76ers will drag it out with these second raters?.....That rumored Bellamy for Lucas deal looks good! Cincinnati needs a center badly, whereas Willis Reed could easily move back into the New York pivot. Lucas has been sulking all year and would be a definite asset to Tricky Dick McGuire's five.....Let's stop the 'rich-get-richer' draft choice swapping in pro football. Trading picks defeats the purpose of the draft.....'Almost Private' Clay had an original idea. The Lip staged a benefit boxing match for a washed up boxer with a huge family, in which the has-been himself had an opportunity to participate....Why is boxing so unbalanced and generally devoid of talent? Nobody with half a brain would go in for such brutal bread winning.....Coach Joe Gilligan has called out his forces for what looks like a good baseball season.....Wonder if Tom Eisenstadt & Co. could bus some of that Roxbury tract talent up WHS way? Why not make George Scott a catcher? He has great hands, a strong accurate arm, handles pop ups and low throws flawlessly, and has the nonchalant self confidence to adjust to a new position quite readily. Finally, his bat, no matter how wildly he waves it, is far more potent than any presently wielded by a Bosox backstop....Watch for Patriots' number 2 pick, Ed Philpott of Miami of Ohio to be a defensive terror. His best spot is probably corner linebacker, a position at which the Pats are woefully wanting....Phil Tupper of the Bedell Celtics, sidelined all season by Army Reserve, meetings, will be available for duty in the Patriots game a couple of weeks hence.... When the high school cafeteria staff all of a sudden decided it no longer wanted the extra-curricular business of such groups as the kids' basketball league, it provided still another hurdle for Commissioner Howard Lafaver to overcome. This time, however, Selectman Jim Miceli to the rescue. He made arrangements with a very obliging AVCO Corp. for a banquet April 1, at their facility at a cost commensurate with the means of the youngsters. Tickets for the affair are on sale and may be procured from the coaches.

It would seem that a league of this nature, operated specifically for town recreation, with no pay for coaches, officials, or commissioner, should be afforded the accommodation of the cafeteria catering one evening a year. Is this another example of Wilmington's ingratitude for the efforts of many unselfish citizens on behalf of its children?....That ticket office, new to Tewksbury, should be a boon to frequenters of Fenway, the Garden and Boston Theaters.

9:30 to 10:30 will be taken up with visits in the Town Hall, where they will see the Assessors, the Town Collector, the Treasurer, the Town Accountant, the Building Inspector, the Public Health Officer, and the Veterans Agent.

At 10:30 the Student Selectmen and Town Manager will become the guests of Jim Miceli, chairman of the Selectmen and Town Manager Harold Melzar, where one of the items they will have to consider will be a 'Warrant' such as is signed by the selectmen in their Monday night meetings.
